SIERRA MADRE, CALIF. THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1951

VOL. 45, NO. 12

Around the Square

No one else would do it, so Attorney John L. Fitzgerald rose to the occasion Saturday. He swept out the PE Depot, ending—for a few days, at least—the unsightly clutter of trash.

His action may have prevented "extreme embarrassment" on the part of city officials, just a few more days of neglect, and one of Sierra Madre's proudest possessions might have turned into a veritable rat hole.

Surely, the city can spare one employee enough time to periodically clean up the station.

Although there is an apparent "full" in the "Battle of the United Nations Flag," we note that the banner is still absent from the Council Chambers.

During the interim between regular Council meetings in Sierra Madre, however, American boys in Korea still are dying in defense of the flag and what it stands for.

We have a city administrator's ordinance. Now, how about getting the city administrator? An ordinance creating the office was enthusiastically adopted last Dec. 11.

A double-barreled comment might be made concerning last Thursday night's so-called "public hearing." Both the Planning Commission and the protesting citizens are not without blame in making the "meeting" a farce.

The public is to be chastised for "getting out of hand" and—in one or two cases—for presenting points in an unruly manner.

And the commission's chairman, Mrs. M. R. Wright, might remember that Planners are not supposed to "take sides" until a hearing is closed.

International News Service came right out and said it Tuesday. Under a dateline, HELL, Mich., the wire service stated: "It was a cold day in Hell today."

"Hell, Mich., that is. The mercury registered 5 degrees below zero."

"Paradise, in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, however was colder than Hell—19° below." If there's one thing we admire, it's frankness.

Check 'Artists' Again in Area

Sierra Madre businessmen were warned again this week to keep a wary eye out for "bum check" artists.

A rubbery check for $10 was passed recently at the Club Sixty Liquor Store, 60 W. Sierra Madre boulevard. Name used on the check was a "George H. Edwards" with the fictitious address, 69 Rancho Road.

Police Chief Gordon G. McMillan said a man using the same name operated in Sierra Madre in 1937 and has served time in San Quentin.

'FIREWORKS' EXPLODE AT HEARING

Opinions were a dime a dozen at last Thursday night's fiery meeting of the Planning Commission, a meeting which saw a standing-room-only audience in the City Hall Council Chambers.

Many present disgustedly termed the meeting "a disgrace to Sierra Madre and to America."

The verbal bombshells began exploding during a public hearing on William A. Stoddard's request for a conditional zoning variance to do light manufacturing in the east 20 feet of his building at 345 W. Sierra Madre boulevard.

Mr. Stoddard wishes to engage in manufacturing of FOUR-LETTER Award for outstanding dealership is presented Carl Hansen, owner of the Ford Agency in Sierra Madre. The plaque cited Mr. Hansen's "sound Finances, efficient Management, competitive Spirit, and completely-modern Facilities." Making the presentation Saturday was L. I. Delaney (second from right), zone sales manager for the Long Beach District of the Ford Motor Company. Looking on were R. C. Lewis (left), president of the Bank of Sierra Madre, and William A. Kinney (right), mayor of Sierra Madre.

Coordinating Council to Examine City Recreation

Present recreation facilities in Sierra Madre will be examined at next Monday night's meeting of the Coordinating Council.

Representatives will find out what the recreational program has been here and will discuss ordinating Council's recreation.

Mrs. P. R. Woodworth, president, urges a big attendance by representatives at the meeting and pointed out that meetings of the council always are open to the public.

Also scheduled for Monday night are reports on the Coordinating Council workshop meetings in Los Angeles last November and on the last P-TA meeting.

Mrs. Samuel Haskins, 171 W. Orange Grove, will briefly address the council on the Red Cross program. Mrs. Haskins recently was appointed service coordinator for the ARC.

The meeting will begin at 8 p. m. in the City Hall Council Chambers.

Mlle. Scarron To Appear Here Monday

Mlle. Scarron, American-born actress who has studied under the famous Sarah Bernhardt, will be guest of honor at next Monday's meeting of the Sierra Madre Friendship Club, Feb. 5, 2:30 p. m. at the city park-house.

The talented entertainer has presented many plays in this country, including productions of "Joan of Arc" and "The German Woman Before the Judge."

All Sierra Madreans are invited to attend the meeting according to Mrs. Alice Sedgman, program chairman.

Small parts in connection with the national defense program. His zoning variance request is for the duration of the "present emergency plus six months."

A petition bearing the signatures of 70 property owners and residents was presented the Planners, voicing opposition to the variance request.

The petition stated in part: "There already is a manufacturing area in Sierra Madre, so why allocate another part of town for such a purpose? . . . The hazard to the safety of children in the neighborhood has to be considered . . . and what about parking facilities? We realize if a town is to ex-

Hansen Wins 'Four-Letter' 1950 Award

Carl Hansen, Sierra Madre Ford dealer, Saturday morning was presented the "Ford Four-Letter Award" for outstanding dealership during 1950.

The award is given annually to qualifying Ford dealers who have met the requirements under the "four letters." The letters, FMSE, stand for sound Finances, efficient Management, competitive Spirit, and completely-modern Facilities.

According to L. I. Delaney, zone sales manager for the Long Beach District of the Ford

Council Accepts Pipeline Easement

The city accepted an easement Monday night from Margaret Stovall, 1855 Oak View Lane, Arcadia, for the right to run a 27-inch pipeline across her property.

A resolution accepting the easement was adopted by the City Council. City Attorney T. Guy Cornyn pointed out that it was necessary for the pipeline of the city's water diversion project to cross Miss Stovall's property from Grandview, cross the wash, and enter the spreading grounds.

Churches to Join Forces for World Day of Prayer Service

Beginning at the Fiji Islands and circling the globe, World Day of Prayer services will be conducted Friday, Feb. 9, in 92 countries of the world and 17,000 communities in the United States.

In Sierra Madre, the World Day of Prayer service will be conducted at 10 a. m. at the Congregational Church. It will be a union service, with representatives of Bethany, Church of the Ascension, Trinity Presbyterian, Church of the Nazarene, Christian Science, and Congregational churches taking part in the leadership. According to Miss Martha Pritchard, Sierra Madre chairman, presiding over the meeting will be Mrs. Emma Wright, vice-president of the National Council Department of United Church Women, Pasadena Chapter. Mrs. Wright recently became a resident of Sierra Madre.

Mrs. Celeste Bains, of the Church of Ascension choir, will lead the group singing with Mrs. Richard Patterson Jr. at the organ. Following the scheduled program, which probably will close at 11:30, the Rev.

Unofficial spokesman for many of the protesting property owners was Mrs. A. C. Paegel, 365 W. Sierra Madre boulevard, who said "there is only 40 feet between my house and Mr. Stoddard's garage."

Mrs. Paegel said she objected to the proposal on the basis of potential noise, parking problems, messes from workmen leaving "beer cans and milk bottles" after lunch, the possible undesirable language

William E. Bowers was elected vice-chairman of the commission, to fill the office left vacant by Mrs. Wright's election to the chairmanship.

V-ETTES SOFTBALL TRYOUTS SATURDAY

Sierra Madre's V-Ettes Girls Ball Team is holding tryouts Saturday, Feb. 3, between 1 and 2 p. m. at the city ball park.

Women interested in playing on the team, report at the park at that time.

In case of rain, contact the V-Ettes manager, Mrs. Barbara Heasley, 30 Victoria Lane, instead of going to the baseball field.

Miss Blythe Foote, 807 Skyland Drive, left by air Tuesday for Washington, D. C. where she will be assigned to Europe for work with the informational program of the US State Department.

The Sierra Madrean, who expects to be gone two years, will be working in conjunction with the "Voice of America" program and with any other informational media of the countries to which she is assigned.

As she left Tuesday, Miss Foote had no idea yet as to which European nation she would go first. She returned to the United States 10 months ago after serving for 2½ years in Vienna.

Miss Foote was graduated in 1947 from the University of California with an AB degree in political science and international relations. She is the daughter of Robert O. Foote and Mrs. Blythe Foote Mendenhall.

ARC Worker Explains Need For Volunteers

The need for volunteer workers at the Long Beach Veterans' Hospital was told 87 Sierra Madreans attending the annual meeting of the local ARC Chapter Monday night.

Miss Ruth Young, Red Cross Field Director at the hospital, explained the rehabilitation program of the hospital and pointed out that the Red Cross is one of 32 organizations working with it. She said there is need for additional nurses, aids, gray ladies, and hostesses.

The Long Beach Hospital at present has 1700 patients—50 of whom are women. The old-

FULL REGISTRATION REPORTED FOR FIRST AID CLASS

A full class of 45 is registered for the first of a series of Red Cross-sponsored First Aid classes, Harry Lange, chairman, reported Monday.

The first session of the class is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 7, with Robert Curry as instructor.

Mr. Lange said Sierra Madreans may now sign up for the second five-week course which will start around the first of March. Registrations may be made with Mr. Lange or at the Sierra Madre Red Cross Chapter House, 41 S. Baldwin avenue.

Mayor's Proclamation

Mayor William A. Kinney yesterday passed a resolution urging citizens' support and commending the polio mercy group for its "vitally-necessary" aid to local polio victims.

"WHEREAS, the Los Angeles Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis last year exhausted its funds giving aid to victims of dreaded infantile paralysis, and

"WHEREAS, the need for polio patient care funds during 1951 will be greater than ever before, THEREFORE, I, the Mayor of Sierra Madre, set aside the night of Feb. 8 for a 'Mothers' March on Polio' and urge all citizens to contribute generously to insure success of the March of Dimes and continuance of the fight against infantile paralysis here," the proclamation concluded.

Mayor Kinney declared that more than 100 county communities already have scheduled marches.

Chamber Board Meets Monday

Proposed changes in the by-laws will be discussed at next Monday night's (Feb. 5) meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, 8 o'clock, in the Council Chambers.

The Chamber board regularly meets on the first Monday of each month, President Al H. Wetherbee pointed out.

Ascension Day School Stages Air Raid Drill

Pupils at Ascension Parish Day School got a new, ominous meaning for the word "drop" Friday.

They learned that when spoken sharply by their teachers, the word means an atomic bomb attack is imminent and they should immediately throw themselves on the floor with their arms shielding their eyes.

The parochial students were given their first atomic attack practice drill Friday morning. Before the drill, Fr. Harley G. Smith Jr. explained at an assembly about the need for prompt obedience to the commands.

Students were told to lie face down until 10 seconds after the command, "drop," then wait for further instructions from their teacher.

MISSION BEGINS SUNDAY AT CHURCH OF ASCENSION

The Mission at Ascension Episcopal Church will begin Sunday, Feb. 4, with special services at 11 a. m., Fr. Harley G. Smith Jr., rector, announced this week.

Missioner for the services, a special preacher from the Order of St. Francis, is coming to Sierra Madre from Long Island, N. Y. He is Father Stephen, assistant superior of the Monastery of the Little Portion, Mt. Sinai, Long Island.

Services will be held every evening at 8 o'clock. According to Father Smith, the Mission consists of preaching and teaching in order that people may understand the love of God for them and the response Christians make, to that love.

The Rev. Smith extends a welcome to everyone, regardless of creed, to attend the Mission services which include hymns, question box, and intercessions as well as preaching or instruction.

"The services are not of a liturgical character and are quite simple in their approach to God," he said.

Father Stephen has been acclaimed as an "outstanding preacher" by the Diocese of Pennsylvania where he was appointed the Diocesan Evangelist for Missions. The Franciscan Order of which Father Stephen is Assistant Superior, is an order of brothers and priests in the Episcopal Church dedicated to following the rule of St. Francis. Their special work has been the preaching

'TOWN MEETING' DATE SET FOR WEDNESDAY, FEB. 14

Sierra Madre is "buckling on its armor." In common with communities throughout America, the city is preparing for an emergency which may occur at any moment in the light of present world conditions.

To discuss this emergency and the various ways in which it may affect every family in Sierra Madre, the local Civil Defense Council has called a meeting of all citizens in the auditorium of the City School at 7:30 Wednesday evening, Feb. 14.

What medical, nursing and first aid facilities will be provided for the several casualty stations in Sierra Madre? What provisions will be made to feed the hungry and to house the homeless in the event of a disaster? What will be done for fire protection in the event the water system is destroyed or impaired? How are we organized to repel and to put down civil disturbances on a large scale inspired by the "fifth column"? What advance preparation should be made for bomb shelters?

These are some of the questions to be discussed at the meeting of citizens Wednesday, Feb. 14. They are questions of vital interest to every home in Sierra Madre. It is to be an open meeting with questions from the audience.

Principal speaker will be Robert B. Heuer, executive officer of the Los Angeles County Civil Defense Planning Board. Mr. Heuer is well-informed on his subject and is devoting his entire evening to

Replies 'Slow' From Block Wardens Here

Replies from potential block wardens have been "discouragingly slow," officials of the Sierra Madre Civilian Defense Council said yesterday.

Two weeks have elapsed since the last letters were mailed to citizens selected as block wardens. Lawrence B. Brain, executive officer of the council, said these letters should be answered immediately.

"Answers are desired even though they may mean a refusal or inability to serve in this honorary capacity," Mr. Brain said. "In cases of declination, however, it would be appreciated if a suitable neighbor's name were recommended so that he or she could then be approached."

Some answers have suggested the name of a wife as a warden with the husband as alternate, since he is away the majority of time, it was pointed out.

If the person continually postpones writing, he can phone either Frank Spencer, chief block warden for Sierra Madre, or Carl Hansen, deputy chief block warden.

Miss Stunden Tapped Into Coveted OMD

Membership in Pasadena City College's highest honorary organization was won Friday by Sierra Madrean Barbara Stunden.

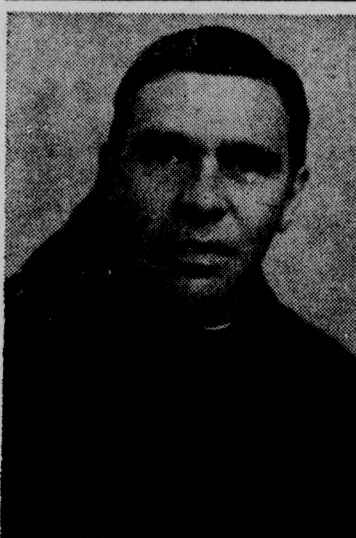

Miss Stunden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Flint E. Stunden, 419 W. Grandview, was one of 16 outstanding PCC students and two teachers tapped Friday morning as members of the Order of Mast and Dagger.

Membership in the organization is reserved for men and women who have rendered "outstanding service" to the college.

The local coed was tapped in recognition of her service as president of the Red Cross Chapter, Language Council secretary, Anatolian vice-president, C. F. S. vice-president, Associated Women Students third vice-president, and membership in the Spartan, and the Frosh, Sophomore, and Junior Class Councils.

She was one of four junior class members to win the coveted honor, the rest being seniors or faculty members. Barbara is a psychology major.

The new OMD tappers were feted Friday night at the semi-annual banquet for active members and alumni groups.

Voters' List Cut by 672

Sierra Madre's registered voters list was cut back by 672 this week as County Registrar of Voters Benjamin S. Hite conducted his bi-annual purge of voters who don't vote.

This many persons failed to go to the polls at either the primary or general elections last year. In order to vote again, they will have to re-register.

The city's list of registered voters now totals 3781. For the general election last November, it was at a record high of 4453.

Local Collector Interested in Early Sierra Madre Printing

If you have any old books or booklets that were printed in Sierra Madre, a local collector would like to know about it.

He is Jack D. Rittenhouse, 223 San Gabriel Court, who has long been a hobbyist book collector.

At present, Mr. Rittenhouse is interested in books, booklets, or pamphlets that were printed here in Sierra Madre before 1930.

He says he doesn't necessarily want to own the old printed material. For the present, he is only seeking information and hopes to compile a list of early Sierra Madre printing.

Mr. Rittenhouse is of the opinion that every city should have an individual or group interested in maintaining a collection of the oldest matter printed there.

"A surprisingly large number of people like to experiment with home printing," he pointed out. "And in the earlier days some even attempted make-shift pamphlet printing, using linoleum block prints." The Sierra Madrean asked residents to contact him if they have any thing that was printed locally before 1930.

Audubon Works Go On Display

John James Audubon had other interests than birds. Proof of this is found at the Huntington Library in San Marino where an exhibit of the famous artist-ornithologist's work went on display this week.

One of the exhibits, which was among the last of Audubon's work, features lithographic illustrations of more than 150 North American wild animals, including the buffalo, black bear, wild cat, and silver fox.

However, "Birds of America," which made him famous, also occupies a prominent spot in the display. The Audubon volumes will remain on exhibit through February.

THE MOUNTAIN LION

(Editor's note: This is the third installment of "The Mountain Lion," an original story written by Percy L. Bonebrake, pioneer Sierra Madream and outdoorsman.)

BY PERCY L. BONEBRAKE

The next few months were strenuous ones for the young lions. They missed their mother who pulled down the big buck deer with the sharp horns, and the yearling cattle. The cubs could kill small calves, when they found them asleep in the shade of bushes, but usually the mother cows, grazing nearby, came charging to the rescue of their babies at the first frightened bawl.

Among the deer, the does and the fawns were on the alert and were hard to catch. The young lions were afraid to visit the goats again, but occasionally they found the carcass of some dead animal on which they could get a more satisfying feed than on the squirrels, chipmunks, rats, mice and frogs on which they were compelled to subsist most of the time. Once they came upon a bunch of about forty wild turkeys which they followed about a week and caught several before the flock became so wary that it left the country.

Life now became a very serious proposition, and at times the two lions nearly starved. One day they chanced on a kid that had strayed from Pedro's band. They promptly killed it, ate their fill, and covered the remainder of the carcass with leaves and sticks. Soon afterwards, Pedro and his employer came that way in search of stray goats.

"Lions again!" the boss exclaimed when they ran onto the carcass. "Get your traps; we'll put a stop to this business."

With six double-spring traps, the two men proceeded to make a "blind" set where an old trail passed between two bushes not far from the remains of the kid. They dug a hole large enough to hold two traps which they chained together and set in the hole. As they worked, they wore gloves to keep the human odor from the traps. All the earth taken from the hole, they put on a piece of canvas. Under the pan of each trap, they placed a small piece of wool which served to hold the pan up and prevent it from being sprung by small animals. Each trap they covered with a piece of paper so that dirt could not lodge under the pans, and then they carefully covered the traps and surroundings with fine dirt, taking care to avoid leaving bits of rock or sticks which might lodge between the jaws of the traps when sprung.

This done, Pedro carried the earth remaining on the canvass to a distant spot and emptied it. Then he helped to lay a log across the trail so that an approaching animal would step over it and onto a trap. The two men painstakingly brushed over the place with small branches, thus obliterating their tracks as they left the spot, walking backwards.

At the head of the dead kid, they placed two traps, and at its flank two more, for it was at those places that the lions would feed when they returned to the carcass. The traps were not staked down but were chained together in pairs so that an animal caught in one of them would not get far away while dragging a second trap through the brush. After again obliterating signs of their work, the two men mounted their horses and rode away.

It was sundown when Tom and his sister, some two miles away, awoke, stretched, and then headed down the trail for more kid meat. Tom's sister, less cautious than he, stepped unhesitatingly over the log and into one of the hidden traps which grabbed her foot and caused her to leap with a blood-curdling screech straight into the air. She fell on her side, clawing and biting savagely at the cruel steel jaws, but she was unable to shake them off. In the meantime, Tom, who had jumped a good fifteen feet off the trail and down the hill at the first alarm, crouched behind some heavy brush watching his sister's every movement.

The captive lion bit at the steel trap until she broke her teeth and cut her mouth. She fought until exhausted, and then lay on her side panting and frothing at the mouth. After resting, she regained her feet and started up the mountain toward the heavy brush, instinct telling her to hide as quickly as possible. But she made slow progress, with the dragging traps catching on every bit of brush, root and stone. All night she struggled against the pitiless impediment, and when dawn came, she became more frightened than ever, and redoubled her efforts to get free.

Tom remained close by his sister through all the fearful hours, but when he heard the voices of men plainly approaching, he slunk noiselessly away, never to see his sister again.

"It's a lion alright, Pete," the boss shouted as he came to the log where the traps had been set.

"Si, Senor!" replied Pedro, his black eyes dancing. "Es un leon—it is a lion."

Taking off his chaps and spurs, the boss pulled his short Winchester carbine from its sheath on his saddle, threw a cartridge into the chamber, and started on the trail plainly made by the struggling lion.

Where the chaparral became so dense that he could not see very far, the boss dropped on his hands and knees and proceeded thus to crawl forward through the dense growth. It was dangerous work, and Pedro kept discreetly in the rear, ready to beat a hasty retreat at a moment's notice. His decision to do that very thing came when, suddenly, not over fifty yards ahead of them, the lion resumed its struggle to free herself from the trap.

Cub Advancement Awards Feature Pack 2 Meeting

Cub Pack 2 held its monthly meeting Friday night at St. Rita's School with several awards presented Sierra Madre Cub Scouts.

Mrs. C. P. Robertson, den mother of Den 2, presented two boys for recognition: Dick Johnston, wolf badge and silver arrow; and Kit Robertson, denner stripes.

Five boys from Mrs. Sam LaSala's Den 4 received awards. They were Robin Orf, wolf badge; Billy Dawes, wolf badge; Michael Hawkins, denner stripes; Larry Fellers, wolf badge; and Sam LaSala, assistant denner stripes.

Bobby Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Paul, was awarded five advancement symbols earned during the month of January. His awards were a bear badge, gold arrow, two silver arrows, and denner stripes. Besides winning the awards for himself, he also won the monthly achievement banner for his unit, Mrs. John Fox's Den 5. The monthly attendance award also went to Den 5.

Theme for the month was rivers of the United States, and Dens 2, 4, and 6 presented skits on the theme.

CAPS Prep For Tourney

Monrovia Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, has joined forces with the El Monte Squadron in hopes of winning the Southern California Drilling Championship.

The combined 32-man drill team, which has been practicing as a unit since Jan. 22, will board a C-47 transport for the state competition in San Francisco if they win the Southland tourney.

Winner of the state contest will then fly to Nevada to take part in the regional meet. United States finals, featuring teams from the eight regions, will be held in Washington, D. C. Finally, the US drilling champs will compete against the Canadian championship team of the Air Cadet League.

Staff Sgt. Bob Wildey, 614 Fairview avenue, reminds Sierra Madreans the Monrovia Squadron still is looking for recruits. They are "in special need" of senior members (18 and over), but still are accepting cadets (15 through 17), Sergeant Wildey said.

FIRE FLAMES

We don't know which one of the meter men it was, but we heard this to be true. Little Jimmie, who had been climbing trees, came in for the second time with his trousers torn.

"Go upstairs and repair them yourself," ordered his mother.

Some time later, she went upstairs. The trousers were there, but no Jimmie. In search she came downstairs and noted the basement door was open. She called down loudly and angrily: "Are you running around down there without your trousers on?"

"No, madam, I'm reading the water meter," came a reply.

Also, there is another one going around. I wouldn't say it was one of the fireboys, but it could be. Anyway, a well-known lady stated that her husband was becoming quite a musician.

"What does he play?" asked a friend. "Does he play the piano?"

"No, he goes out fit as a fiddle and comes home tight as a drum," retorted the musician's wife. (That positively could not be one of our boys.)

Not too long ago, four of the local men attended a meeting of fire fighters in Covina. Expecting great things to happen, Gene Toms went along. He was preaching to the others the art of self control.

"You must learn never to lose your temper, even under the most trying circumstances."

"Just then there was a buzzing sound throughout the car. Whatever it was landed on Gene's nose.

"Now, to illustrate — while I've been talking a fly has landed on the end of my nose. I do not swear, I do not blaspheme, I merely say, 'Go away, fly — My God, It's a Bee — Wow!'"

The fire fighters were surprised to find out that Assistant Chief George Norris was not at the scene of drill last Friday night. When they found that the drill called for the laying of many lengths of hose, it was generally surmised that he was the promoter. A drill calling for several lines at an imaginary fire called for lots of work and willing hands.

These drills are important as the fire fighters know their responsibility. They also know that fires can happen.

The regular business meeting was back to normal last week when Bobby Clark squeezed into his tight fitting seat between Harold Spears and Dick Hawks. This trio seems to find much to distract their attention.

Those "GI shacks" that some of us were so worried about out Hastings Ranch way are being built in spite of Sierra Madre's objections.

To some of us who are familiar with 10-room houses — those shacks out there look pretty respectable. Wouldn't mind if I could have one of 'em.

Those buyers out there probably didn't think of it, but they have the advantage of a sewer by being in the city limits of Pasadena. What are we

Sgt. Green in Japan Hospital

Sgt. Norman Green of the U. S. Marine Corps is under medical treatment at a naval hospital somewhere in Japan, his mother, Mrs. M. J. Green, 334 Grove, learned last week.

Mrs. Green said her son is reported to have suffered an attack of appendicitis. Sergeant Green has been serving with the Marine Air Corps in Korea for several months.

going to do when all the cesspools start overflowing? There are some of us who have not been fortunate enough to have acres of land around the house. Anyway, that's nothing to do with our fire prevention program.

We still have a mighty fine little city to protect and if protecting it from fire has anything to do with making it a better place to live, your fire department will do its part.

We only ask that everybody help. Without your help, we cannot retain our record of a few fires. Few fires is so much better than to have to answer calls to extinguish destructive fires. There are many ways to prevent fires. Sometime when we have space, we'll mention a few.

In the meantime: DON'T SMOKE IN BED. You will, if you continue to smoke cigarettes while you are in bed. DON'T take this advice too lightly. If you do, we will gladly come at your call to put the FIRES OUT.

Nothing Better Than Good Food, Says Ohio Man

If a man isn't able to eat the foods he likes he's in mighty sorry shape — imagine going through life without being able to enjoy a fine big platter of bacon and eggs. That is the way

Joseph N. Damillot, 3414 E. 5th Street, Dayton, Ohio, used to be, but since he has been taking HADACOL, he says he feels just fine and is able to enjoy lots and lots of fine foods. Mr. Damillot found that taking HADACOL helped his system overcome a deficiency of Vitamins B, B₁₂, Niacin and Iron.

Here is Mr. Damillot's statement: "My first bottle of HADACOL convinced me that HADACOL was what I needed for the gas on my stomach at nights. I could not keep food on my stomach, but after the first bottle I was going great. Now I eat bacon and eggs, and other foods that never would stay with me. I also can sleep well at nights. Thanks to HADACOL. I will never be without it, and can recommend it to all who suffer with the above ailments that I had. I know because I have suffered for quite some time."

"Mr. Hansen's dealership in Sierra Madre has measured up to these high standards and is entitled to the award," Mr. Delaney said Saturday in making the presentation.

With Mr. Hansen as he received a plaque symbolizing the award were Sierra Madre Mayor William A. Kinney and Rollin C. Lewis, president of the Bank of Sierra Madre.

Mr. Hansen gave "full credit" to every employee at the agency for doing their part in earning the award and pledged the organization to continue its efforts in order to win it again next year.

He has been in the Ford business in California for 27 years and in Sierra Madre 14 years.

Dead Trees Again in News

Dead trees again came in for their share of attention at an adjourned meeting of the City Council Monday night.

This time, the removal of both offending trees was approved by the Councilmen, on recommendation of W. E. Bowers, forestry chairman of the Planning Commission.

Leon J. Rizer, 169 N. Lima, stated that he has been trying to get the dead cypress tree in front of his home removed for "over two years."

The Council instructed Acting Director of Public Works Glenn Watson to obtain bids for removing the tree if city employees are unable to do the job.

Fr. Harley G. Smith Jr., rector of the Church of the Ascension, had petitioned the city for permission to remove a "small palm directly in front of the church's new entrance on Baldwin."

He said the tree was "in the way" for weddings, funerals, and miscellaneous parking.

Present Recreation Facilities Listed

In cooperation with the Coordinating Council, the NEWS is presenting a listing of Sierra Madre's existing recreational facilities. Next week, a questionnaire will be published so all readers can express their views on what a recreational program for the future should include.

The following data was compiled by the Coordinating Council through the assistance of Al E. Morgan, chairman of the Sierra Madre Recreation Commission, Melvin Bowman, and Mrs. P. R. Woodworth, president of the council.

RECREATION FACILITIES OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE: swimming pool, bathhouse, baseball field, Youth Hut, parkhouse, tennis courts, shuffle board courts (3), horse shoe and its facilities, swings, two ping pong tables, two barbecue pits, basketball and/or volleyball court and balls.

SIERRA MADRE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL: 3 adjoining playgrounds, upper playground used for softball and touch football and other sports (no special equipment here); middle playground has 2 volleyball courts, 3 tether ball poles, 1 handball court, and 2 basketball courts; lower playground has 5 swings, 2 slides, 1 sandpile, 1 merry-go-round, 1 set of rings, 1 set of horizontal bars, 2 Jungle Jims (for climbing), and 1 teeter totter.

The playgrounds and equipment seem very adequate for the present enrollment. The school is not contributing any money to the city recreational program this year because of their extensive building program. Their recreational program is separate from the city program. The Board of Education is providing an after-school recreational program with a paid leader. The school's recreational facilities are used solely by the children attending the school during the school year.

ASCENSION PARISH EPISCOPAL DAY SCHOOL: 1 general playground for usual sports and games; 1 slide 5 swings, 2 horizontal bars, 1 Jungle Jim, and 1 set of rings. The school has a paid coach who comes to the school several times a week to coach the boys' activities, and they also have a paid instructor for teaching square dancing. A small building is maintained as a playhouse for kindergarten age children. A basement is used when it is necessary for the children to play indoors.

ST. RITA'S SCHOOL: 2 playgrounds, one is a field of about 3 acres, which can be used by others as well as the school children (this field has a good backstop), and the other has the following equipment: 1 volleyball court, 1 basketball court, 1 set of rings, 5 swings, 2 horizontal bars. A small building is maintained for use by the Boy Scouts.

They have an excellent auditorium here for dancing and other social activities.

Speaker Tells Club Real Estate Trends

Real estate trends and background were analyzed for Sierra Madre Kiwanians Tuesday when Robert S. Fuller addressed the club's regular weekly noon luncheon.

Mr. Fuller, who is head of the real estate appraisal department of the Bank of America in Los Angeles, traced how the dollar has shrunk in value and showed how various economic and social factors have boosted the costs of property.

He said, however, that at present he is optimistic concerning the real estate market. The speaker listed several factors which would make buying property a favorable investment at present.

One factor, Mr. Fuller said, is that with preparations for war, the US will continue to enjoy a period of "general prosperity" for another five or ten years. Another is that, with building controls, there will be less competition from new houses.

"Government guarantees on building and homes also are worth keeping in mind when considering purchasing now," he stated. "A final reason is that the investment in sound real estate services as a good hedge against inflation."

Mr. Fuller cautioned the Kiwanians, however, to seek the advice of a professional real estate appraiser before buying property. He was introduced by Program Chairman Dr. Milton Valois.

MAYOR CALLS

Sierra Madre, beginning with an informal dinner with Mayor Kinney and other city and civilian defense officials.

Said Mayor Kinney in reference to the mass meeting of citizens:

"In all probability the time is shorter than we think. Reports from Europe indicate that Russia is slyly preparing to take the offensive this Spring in its campaign to overrun the world. The beginning of such an offensive will be the signal for its well-prepared fifth column in all nations not now behind the 'iron curtain' to begin operations on a wide scale, committing sabotage, creating civilian panic, and developing a program of crime according to the pattern established in other countries which they are attempting to destroy."

"This does not mean that we should permit ourselves to become terror stricken. But on the contrary we must school ourselves to a keen awareness of the danger in the situation and to work together as a team to minimize that danger. Here is a situation unique in our American history which needs the sober thinking of every resident of Sierra Madre."

As Mayor of this city and as director of your Civil Defense organization, I urgently call on all citizens to attend this meeting."

Much progress has been made in Sierra Madre in preparing an outline and in laying the foundation for the defense of this community. But to be really effective it requires the cooperation of every Sierra Madre man and woman.

The Mayor points out the importance and the need for "team work." It is anticipated that this will be the keynote and the theme for the mass meeting Feb. 14. Every family in Sierra Madre should be represented.

(by workmen) in the neighborhood, and a possible decrease in property values.

During the open discussion that followed, protests were voiced, and opinions or questions raised by Mrs. Wilma Rowe, M. W. Day, Clarence Schreier, a Mrs. Graves, a Mr. Shadforth, Charles Herzberg, Mrs. John Pascoe, Clara Varney, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Fletcher.

Charles Askew, 23 S. Lima, and Louis Sparks, 29 N. Lima, said they had no objections to the permit for light manufacturing.

Mr. Stoddard pointed out that smog would not result from the manufacturing, inasmuch as no heat would be used. No equipment other than lathes are proposed, he said. Mr. Stoddard stated that he already has six lathes in operation in his "1300-foot soundproof, concrete building."

During the hearing, City Attorney T. Guy Cornyn cautioned the Planners not to exhibit any evidence of opinion, one way or another, until after the hearing is closed.

"I have seen lots of public hearings in my time," Mr. Cornyn said, "and they cannot be conducted if there is an argument in the audience. The position of the Planning Commission is to listen, and members should not exhibit any opinion until all is finished."

On motion of Planner Harold Zook, the commissioners took the request "under advisement." Their decision is expected at next month's meeting.

CITY APPROVES RICK VARIANCE

A zoning variance from R-1 to R-3 was granted Fred Rick Monday night for his property immediately east of the Sierra Madre Public Library, 440-442 W. Sierra Madre boulevard.

Two hearings had been held before the Planning Commission previous to the third and final one before the City Council Monday night.

Walter Dixons Honeymooning At Big Bear Following Wedding

Aisles tied in white satin ribbons and clusters of white baby breath and a flower-banked altar flanked with candelabra were the setting for the marriage of Jeanette Whitman Thayer to Walter Bernard Dixon, on Saturday, Jan. 27, in the Congregational Church of Sierra Madre.

The 8 p. m. services were conducted by the Rev. Carl Smith.

Given in marriage by her father, Donald Thayer, formerly of Sierra Madre, the bride wore an ivory satin colonial-style gown with full skirt, a scalloped hem, long pointed sleeves, and a scalloped neckline. She wore a crown of braided white satin with a fingertip veil and carried white roses.

Matron-of-honor was Carla Gormley, who wore a turquoise taffeta, off-the-shoulder style dress.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Daniel Lumpkin of Monrovia, a sister of the bride who wore cerise taffeta; Mrs. Bea Brodwick, sister of the groom who wore a gold taffeta dress; and Susan Airon, who wore a gown of hunter's green.

Donna Marie Kingsland was the flower girl in a powder-blue dress and carried a basket of rose petals.

Ushers were Daniel Lumpkin of Monrovia, Bud Wood, and Bud Herbine.

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony, where Mrs. Thayer, mother of the bride, received in a navy blue short-sleeved gown with pink accessories.

The couple is honeymooning at Big Bear and will return to Glendale to live, where Mr. Dixon is employed.

Freeman-Crowell Wedding Sunday

Bad Weather Cancels Game; VFW Meets Cafe Team Sunday

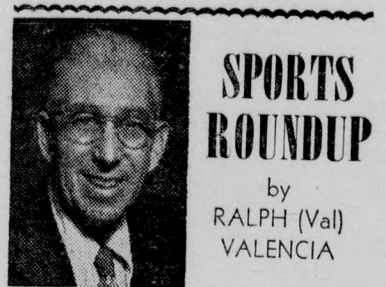

Because of threatening weather in Sierra Madre and light rain in the foothills Sunday, the scheduled semi-pro baseball game between the Sierra Madre VFW Raiders and the Los Angeles Panthers was canceled.

Next Sunday, however, the Raiders will meet the El Sombrero Cafe team. In their one previous appearance at the Sierra Madre ball park, they were shut out 9 to 0 when "Mutt" Oaks had his first starting appearance in a Raider uniform and held the visitors to 5 hits. "Mutt" will start against El Sombrero again this Sunday, VFW Team Manager Larry Shepherd said Tuesday. The game begins at 1:30 p. m.

In spite of last Sunday's game being canceled, 10 Raiders reported to the field anyway for a practice session that lasted three hours.

Several ball fans were on hand, and a few even joined in by fielding hard-hit balls that managed to escape the outfielders.

SPORTS ROUNDUP
by
RALPH (Val)
VALENCIA

DOWN THE LANES

On Sept. 13, 1950, the State Board of Equalization made a ruling it would be illegal for any bowler or bowling team to wear a bowling shirt advertising any and all brands of beer. This week all bowling alleys have been notified that on or after Feb. 1st any house permitting a bowler to wear a shirt with name, sign, or insignia of any brand of beer, will be liable to a heavy fine or even the loss of operating license.

Tuesday, Jan. 30 at 11 a. m. in the Sequoia Room of the Bohemian Brewing Co. there was a meeting of all bowling alley managers to discuss and clarify all the angles of this ruling by the Board. If any of our local bowlers have shirts advertising any brand of beer, I would advise you not to wear them until I can give you a full report on the outcome of Tuesday's meeting, which I will have in next week's column.

Anybody wanting to buy a used dog house, please contact one of the sponsors of the Sierra Madre Merchants Bowling team—namely Harry Lange, of Lange Real Estate, Don Jackson of Jackson's Mens' Store, Joe Scalzo of Scalzo's Pet Shop, Al Morgan of the Bank of Sierra Madre or Harold Roberts of Roberts Market.

The reason for this special sale was brought about by—you guessed it—the Merchants' Bowling team breaking the ice and winning two games last week from the Arcadia Sporting Goods Co., one of the top teams in the 850 scratch league in Arcadia.

For the first time in several weeks, the boys looked like a real 850 average team, taking the first 2 games and giving their opponents a tough battle for the third. But they were short a few pins for a win.

From all appearances the local team hit the bottom of the league so hard that they are bouncing back. Now if their bounce is strong enough they still have about 27 games left to hit the top.

Joe Murphy, Ed Myatt, and Andy Liscomb all scattered the pins for better than a 500 series. Ernie Hayes and Ralph Valencia didn't fair so well but were in there donating pins in swell shape for their share of glory. Good luck, gang, keep fighting to the end.

The Knights of Columbus Bowling League, consisting of Arcadia, El Monte and Sierra Madre Council No. 3073, had their annual communion and breakfast at St. Rita's Church last Sunday morning. Some 148 bowlers, their wives and families, attended. Mr. Richardson, one of the officers of the Retreat House was the speaker of the day. The activities were enjoyed by all those who attended and we are looking forward to their next visit to our fair city.

FROM THE NEUTRAL CORNER

The Pasadena City College 21st Annual Golden Gloves Tournament got under way on Tuesday night, but due to the fact that this column's deadline is Tuesday noon, I am not able to give you the results to date. The finals are being held tonight, so next week I will have the complete rundown for you. For those of you who do not already have knowledge of the complete lineup, here they are. There are 9 classes as follows:

- 120—Harry Johnson, Ernie Ruiz, and Mas Kiriama.
- 125—Lavanagh Johns, and Bill Banerdt.
- 130—Ruben Heredia, Don Martinez, and Reville McRiley.
- 135—Clyde Smyth, Ed Boz, Tony Gutierrez, and Eugene Knuth.
- 145—George Milan, Jim Gibson, Henry Wilfong, Clement Araw, and Bob Mandell.
- 155—Jim Vasquez, Joe Conales, Max Willis, Charles Brown, Larry Halvorson, Jack Foyil, Joe Williams, and Marvin Howard.
- 165—Leroy Stoyanchol, Carlton Edmead, and Dayton McDonald.
- 175—Jim Rogers, Frank Endlerle, Bob Wilson, and Dave Woody.
- Heavyweight—Ken Spencer, Pete Bello, and Cornelius Smith.

ON THE DIAMOND

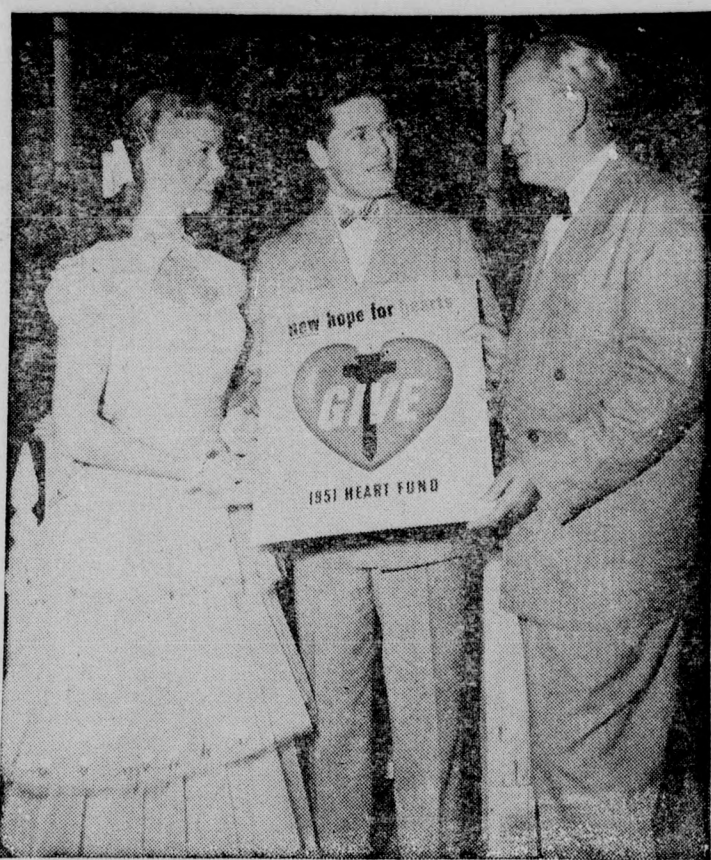

Rain checks were in order Sunday at the ball park. Game called—wet grounds.

AT THE 19th HOLE

George Larson, Ed Keating and Andy Liscomb ventured out to Brookside Park Sunday on a birdie hunt. Believe it or not, Andy got one on the very first green. George Larson also bagged one on the 9th. Ed Keating was not able to find a single birdie all day. But Ed cupped a 30 ft. putt from the edge of the 15th green for a par 5. All greens were wet which made them very slow, but the local divit diggers fared very well. The cards read: Larson 82, Keating 84, Liscomb 85. Absentees were Krinke, Valencia and Fairfield. Must be hot weather golfers, no less.

QUICKIE

Upon receiving a letter from his son at college, a proud father said to his wife—Harold is now a quarterback at college. After a minute or two of concentration, mother answered: "Now listen, Pa, you send the boy that money; we don't want him to be owing bills at college."

MAURIE LUXFORD, right, general campaign chairman for the Los Angeles Heart Association drive to raise $250,000 for research, tells Doris Day and Gordon MacRae, Warner Bros. stars need for funds. They are filming "On Moonlight Bay."

Pennock Sons Are Members Of Orchestra

Malcolm and Deane Pennock, sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pennock, 120 S. Baldwin, are two young local musicians who are members of the All-Southern California Junior High School Symphony Orchestra. They are students at Marshall Junior High School. Malcolm, who is 15, plays the trombone and Deane, 13, the trumpet. The talented young musicians are known as "the brothers blessed with perfect pitch."

Rehearsals are held each Saturday afternoon at Los Angeles City College, and concerts by the orchestra will be given later this spring in near-by cities.

JUNIOR LEAGUE ANNOUNCES NEW RADIO PROGRAM

Starting Saturday, Feb. 3, the Junior League of Pasadena will present California Stepping Stones for the League's half-hour program every Saturday morning, President Mrs. Donald Hamblin, 920 W. Orange Grove, announced this week.

This program, presented over Station KXLA as "Adventure Time," goes on the air at 9 a. m.

California Stepping Stones, based on the book by Robert Kingery Buell, is a series of transcribed dramatizations of colorful episodes in the history of California designed especially for children.

Society Chief Calls 'Badgers'

Oscar Redeman, president of the Wisconsin State Society, summons all "Badgers" to come from near and far for the society picnic Saturday, Feb. 10, at Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles.

The mid-winter event will be in honor of Abraham Lincoln's birthday.

Bat Racks Ready For Use Sunday

Bat racks for the city ball park have been completed and are expected to be used for the first time Sunday.

Volunteer carpenter on the job was Boyd C. Lee, 185 N. Hermosa.

Raider Manager Larry Shepherd termed the new bat racks as "a nice job and something we have really needed at the ball field."

He said the response by Sierra Madreans in donating lumber was "overwhelming." The large pile of lumber will be cut to size, with the bad pieces cut out and scraps or unusable lumber turned over to the Youth Hut for use by Boy Scouts or other groups as barbecue firewood.

Scouts Cancel Kaiser Tour

The proposed Sierra Madre Boy Scout trip to Kaiser Steel Mill has been canceled, it was announced this week.

Because of an expansion program, all tours throughout the mill have been postponed for the present, according to Ralph Hurwit, local Scout committee member.

A movie is being made showing the various operations in the mill, however, and will be available for Scout troops around the first of April, Mr. Hurwit said.

CLERGYMEN TO MEET TUESDAY ON RECREATION

Sierra Madre ministers, rabbi, and priests will hold a special meeting next Tuesday, Feb. 6, to discuss recreation in the community.

The meeting will be held at 11 a. m. at the office of the Rev. Carl Smith, pastor of the Congregational Church.

Local clergymen are expected to decide what their recommendations on a city recreation program should be. They will present their ideas to the Coordinating Council.

First Aid Course Begins at School

A special first aid course for teachers started Tuesday, Jan. 30, at City School.

Superintendent Charles A. Skutt reported an enrollment of 25 teachers and residents. The class offers college credit and is presented as an adult education class of the Pasadena Extended Day program.

Instructor of the 15-week course is John Eichenberg, Mr. Skutt said.

Meeting Will Study X-Ray Survey Data

A meeting to plan the "follow-up" phase of the recently concluded, 10-month-long x-ray survey will be held at the Los Angeles Elks Club on Tuesday, Feb. 6.

Several hundred residents, civic leaders, and medical men from all over the county are expected to attend the dinner meeting and hear the official results of the survey and plan what can be done here to further the health of all citizens, according to James C. Kenney, program director of the County X-Ray Survey Foundation.

Mount Wilson 'Parkers' Fined

Two Pasadenaans learned last week that parking is not allowed on Mount Wilson Road.

The two men were fined $5 by City Judge John C. Mead, Saturday morning as "a little reminder" for next time.

The men, Paul Stafford, 1219 Bresse, and Norman Weller, 2055 E. Villa, were cited Jan. 21 while parked in separate cars.

Ascension Women To Meet Tonight

Members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of Ascension will meet today, Feb. 1, at the home of Mrs. John A. Watkins, 1640 Perkins Drive, Arcadia. The meeting will begin at 8 p. m.

VETERANS' ACTIVITIES

(Editor's note: The NEWS this week presents a new column on local veterans' activities. This, the first column, was written by a member of the Sierra Madre American Legion Post. It is his hope that other veterans' groups in town will help the column grow and become a thing of interest to all readers.)

PURPOSE WITH ACTION

Frank Drew, Pasadena Post 13, announced that he is going to ask members of the 18th District Conservation Committee to make an effort to plant more trees in the American Legion Memorial Grove at Doe Flats in the Angeles National Forest. Each tree planted in this grove is a living memorial to a world war fighting man who died in the service of his country. Since Korea we have many more trees to plant. This little grove of pines, which was started by veterans of the American Legion after World War I, is now beautiful, plus being useful in the conservation of water resources for this area.

The American Legion is built around a great ideal. That ideal is the preservation of the free institutions of America. This is the basic purpose of Legion. To the attainment of this fundamental objective, all American Legion programs and activities are shaped and attuned.

In their endeavor, Legionnaires are motivated by a burning desire to keep America always American. This is genuine Americanism. It is in keeping with the ringing American Legion Keynote—"For God and Country!"

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat
DEMOCRACY—A Year-round Job

ON JANUARY 7, 1789, GEORGE WASHINGTON WAS CHOSEN PRESIDENT IN THE FIRST NATIONAL ELECTION IN THE U.S. THAT EVENT MARKED THE FORMAL LAUNCHING OF OUR REPUBLIC AND BROUGHT INTO ACTION THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESSES BY WHICH, OVER 161 YEARS, OUR PEOPLE HAVE BUILT FOR THEMSELVES THE MOST SUCCESSFUL ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL SYSTEM THAT MANKIND HAS KNOWN.

SO LONG AS OUR PEOPLE RECOGNIZE THAT THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF CITIZENSHIP ARE CONTINUOUS, EMBRACING PARTICIPATION THAT GOES BEYOND MERE VOTING—

SO LONG AS OUR GOVERNMENT HOLDS ITSELF CONTINUOUSLY RESPONSIVE TO THE NEEDS AND DESIRES OF THE PEOPLE—
OUR DEMOCRACY WILL CONTINUE TO GROW IN FREEDOM, IN POWER AND IN OPPORTUNITY.

Bethany Bible Class Enjoys Mexican Food

Members of II Timothy 2:15 class, under the direction of Mrs. Helen Kratavil, enjoyed a Mexican dinner Friday evening in Bethany Fellowship Hall.

The dinner was prepared by Marais Aurelius Bernal of Mexico City, formerly a student at Pacific Bible College in Azusa and now completing his religious training at Biola after which he plans to return to Mexico to work among his own people.

Mrs. Kratavil is the originator of Krata-Kraft Bible lessons which are used widely throughout the United States and foreign lands.

Associated with Mrs. Kratavil is Mary Feister, who has had 20 years' experience as a missionary in the Latin American countries.

The Bible class is open to all who are interested and meets at 9:30 a. m. every Sunday in Bethany Church Fellowship Hall.

Pupils Visit NEWS Office

City School pupils of Mrs. Dorothy Baird's third-grade class visited the NEWS office and printing shop Friday morning as a part of their newspaper studies.

The 8-year-old students were shown the various mechanical steps necessary for the publishing of a newspaper, including type setting, composing, makeup, mat casting, press work, and paper folding.

Accompanying Mrs. Baird and the pupils on the tour was Mrs. Martha Coutant, clerk of the Sierra Madre City School Board.

CHURCHES TO

Carl Smith of the Congregational Church will lead a season of prayer with quiet music furnished by Mrs. Samuel Kirk. The church will remain open until 1 p. m.

Miss Pritchard said this noon hour is a community call to prayer for our world leaders and commanders and men in service that the "joint communion of religious forces may implement their efforts toward bringing world order out of chaos.

She invited citizens—men and women alike—who wish to spend part of their noon hour in prayers to attend the service.

Party Honors Mary Feister

Miss Mary Feister was honored at a birthday celebration on Saturday, Jan. 27, by Mrs. Fannie Sea.

A turkey dinner was served by the hostess to the invited guests; Mrs. Stranske, Mrs. Mohler, Mrs. Bob Peterson, Mrs. Norman Turner, Mrs. Helen Kratavil, Mrs. Pagenkopf, Mrs. Joe Mettling and Mrs. H. A. Thew.

VALENTINE'S DAY THEME OF DANCE

Valentine's Day will set the theme, for a dance to be given Friday, Feb. 2, from 8 until 10 o'clock at the Park House, by the Razz-Ma-Tazzers, under the sponsorship of Mr. and Mrs. James Gentry.

All Sierra Madre seventh and eighth graders are invited to attend.

Other parent sponsors participating are: Mr. and Mrs. Al Sturton, Mr. and Mrs. Jack DeClerf, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Perry, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Fritz, and Mrs. Herbert Weil.

Don Parker will provide the music and beginners are invited to the free dance instruction classes held at 7:30, one-half hour before the regular dance.

ALA VOTES $10 FOR DIMES FUND

The American Legion Auxiliary met Thursday evening, Jan. 25, at the home of Mrs. Grace Koch, for a business meeting and social program. Ten dollars was voted as a contribution to the March of Dimes.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Thelma Procter, 280 E. San Gabriel Ct., on Thursday, Feb. 8, at 8:00. All those attending are requested to bring a Valentine.

What's Your Traffic IQ?

"What is your traffic IQ?" The Los Angeles Police Department offers this quiz for Southland motorists. There are no prizes promised for high scores, but you may save your life someday by knowing the right answers.

If you miss more than three of the true-false questions, you'd better study up on the State Vehicle Code. Here they are:

1.—While driving down a street you see a car ahead stopped at a crosswalk. As you approach, you look closely and can see no one crossing the street at that location. You may continue on past the stopped vehicle, if you drive carefully? (T), (F).

2.—While descending a narrow one-lane mountain road you meet another car which is driving up the road. You must yield to the up-grade vehicle? (T), (F).

3.—Vehicles may be driven only in northerly and westerly directions in alleys in the Los Angeles Central Traffic District. (Downtown Los Angeles)? (T), (F).

4.—Making an arm signal as required by the Vehicle Code gives the driver the right-of-way to make the turn or lane change indicated by his arm signal? (T), (F).

5.—If traveling the same speed on dry level pavement, a six-wheel heavily loaded diesel truck, skidding with all wheels locked takes approximately the same distance to stop as a light passenger car that is also skidding with locked wheels? (T), (F).

6.—At sixty miles per hour, the total stopping distance for a vehicle with good 4-wheel brakes is approximately 251 feet? (T), (F).

7.—If you are a licensed chauffeur, you are also required to have an operator's license? (T), (F).

8.—According to the Vehicle Code, a driver should switch to low headlight beams when he is 250 feet from an oncoming vehicle? (T), (F).

9.—In no event may the driver of a school bus transporting pupils operate in excess of 45 miles per hour? (T), (F).

10.—Drivers on through highways always have the right-of-way over vehicles from the side streets? (T), (F).

Answers: 1. (F); 2. (T); 3. (T); 4. (F); 5. (T); 6. (T); 7. (F); 8. (F); 9. (T); 10. (F).
